Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Catarrh

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

A Boy's Terrible Experience.

Floating on a cake of ice about six feet square, several miles down the Delaware river, while the icy water lapped about his ankles, benumbing him to the bone, was the experience of Elmer Dwelbes, seven years old, of Philadelphia, yesterday. Unable to stamp his feet to keep up the circulation for fear of breaking his crazy boat into fragments, and not daring to swing his arms for warmth lest he lose his equilibrium, the boy was almost frozen when rescued by a policeman an hour after he started on his novel journey.

With three others boys, Elmer had gone to a wharf where they had cleared a slide on the ice. They were having a fine time when a Delaware River Navigation Company steamboat went up the river, sending a series of fan-shaped swell rolling under and over the ice field. There was a sudden cracking, and the boys found their slide broken in half a dozen places, leaving a quickly increasing width of open water between them and the shore.

The other three boys were nearer the shore-line and succeeded in jumping to safety. As each youngster jumped he kicked the cake of ice farther into the stream, making escape for their playmate impossible. Then the boys who were safely on shore realized Elmer's danger and screamed for help.

Mounted Policeman John Trotter responded, and went on a run to the Outland Canoe Club, where he broke down a door and got a boat. With another man to help him, he got the boat into the water, and the two caught the almost frozen navigator after he had been an hour on his journey.

Storm on the Coast.

A gale of great severity blew off the Virginia coast early yesterday morning. At least one steamship, the Aragon, was disabled, and the United States monitor Florida, with a naval board of inspection aboard, had a fierce encounter with the wind and waves off the Virginia capes. Blowing from the west and northwest, vessels were driven off shore rather than in.

The wind reached a velocity of 56 miles an hour at Cape Henry yesterday morning, and it blew at not less than 48 miles at the cape all the forenoon. Yesterday afternoon it moderated, and last night it was not blowing more than 24 miles.

The predicament of the Florida was made known at Norfolk by wireless telegraph. The lowlying vessel was then pitching and rolling in the trough of the sea and waves were breaking over it. There was a decided element of danger in the situation, for the monitor and those aboard were having anything but a comfortable time, but the hardest part of the storm was weathered without any reported mishap.

The Florida went to sea Tuesday evening for the purpose of testing the effect on life in a turret over which a gun of heavy calibre might be fired. The monitor will be at sea for several days.

Endorsed by the County.

"The most popular remedy in Otsego county, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. M. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an infallible cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases." Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by E. S Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1 Trial bottle free.

Train Precipitated Into Pond.

Train No. 83, on the Western New York and Pennsylvania Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was wrecked last night between Irvington and Warren, Pa. The train plunged over a 25-foot embankment and nine persons were injured, none fatally.

The train was running behind a freight from Irvington to Warren, and when three-quarters of a mile from Warren the freight ran into a siding to allow the passenger to pass. After the freight was on the siding the passenger started through the switch, which is set from a tower about a quarter of a mile away. The switch was not entirely closed and two cars were thrown from the rail and down an embankment into a pond of water.

Near the railroad track runs a pipe line of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, carrying 300 pounds pressure. This pipe line was broken and the coaches filled with natural gas. There were four passengers in the rear coach, which was turned completely over and they had a narrow escape from suffocation by gas fumes. Had the lamps in the coaches been lighted an explosion would have taken place.

Nearly every passenger on the train was bruised or cut.

Piles of people have Piles. Why suffer from piles when you can use DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve and get relief. Nothing else so good. Beware of imitations. See that the name is stamped on each box. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Nuns Fined.

A police court judge in Nantes, France, yesterday inflicted fines of $3.20 upon each of twenty-seven Ursuline nuns, and a fine of $5 upon the mother superior, for presistently refusing to quit their convent, in compliance with the law dispersing religious communities.

The defendants pleaded that both the grounds and the buildings themselves belong to the order, which has been authorized to carry on educational work. The prosecution, while not contesting this argument, insisted upon obedience to the act of congregations and at the same time gave warning that further refusal by the nuns to leave the buildings would be followed by ejection.

During the trial the court room had to be cleared, because of the demonstrations of Catholic sympathizers, who, at the conclusion of the hearing, accompanied the nuns back to their convent with cheers.

Aimed at Bailey.

The following bill, which is aimed at Senator Bailey, was presented by Senator Holsey, in the Texas legislature, who was one of the leaders of the anti-Bailey element in the Senate.

"It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person to hold the office of State Representative, State Senator, Member of the United States Congress and United States Senate to qualify and perform the duties of the office while in the service or employed as an attorney or otherwise of any public service corporation or corporations.

"Any person violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, forfeit the office and be confined in the State penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years."

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 7, 1907.

AS HAD been generally anticipated, the jury upon whose verdict depended the fate of the Strother brothers, who have recently been on trial at Culpeper for the killing of William Bywaters, shortly after the latter had been married to the sister of the two men, returned a verdict of not guilty today after considering the facts and the evidence in the case for a short time. By their action it would seem that what is termed the "unwritten law" has again appealed more powerful to a jury than the statutes of the State. The killing of Bywaters by the Strother brothers excited keen interest from the first, and the newspapers have been giving verbatim accounts of the proceedings of the trial since the court convened. Interest in the case has by no means been confined to the neighborhood in which the tragedy occurred nor in the State, but readers of newspapers throughout the country are familiar with the facts of the tragedy. Opinion has been divided concerning the liability the brothers incurred by shooting Bywaters, although the greater number apparently, have thought from the first that, according to all the allegations, he had forfeited his life and that his fate was just. Others, however, have viewed the unfortunate occurrence from another standpoint, and have failed to see why it was necessary to slay the man after he had married the woman he had wronged. Had the killing occurred before the marriage, Bywaters would have had but few defenders. Some think that time might have adjusted the matter, and while the family of the young woman would have realized that there was a gruesome skeleton in the closet, it would have been better to have lived on conscious of that fact than to have shed blood. By resorting to the latter course the stain was not removed, but a skeleton has been brought to the front that will not be confined to a closet, and, like Banquo of old, it will appear at unlooked for moments. Besides all this, the notoriety that has been attained by all concerned will prove a grievous burden throughout life. It is a sad affair, to say the least.

THE unsatisfactory condition of the channel of the river in front of this city is a chronic cause of complaint among those engaged in business on the river front. The water is gradually becoming more shallow from a point opposite the outlet lock of the old Alexandria canal and extending some distance south. These conditions have existed almost since the Johnstown flood, during the early part of the summer of 1889. At that time a barge was forced by the current in a transverse position in the channel and it finally sank. This obstruction has been the cause of the gradual formation of a bar which has materially lessened the depth of water opposite Alexandria, and trouble is now experienced in getting loaded vessels into the docks. The Potomac river should long ago have received the attention of Congress from the fact that dependent upon it the capital city is situated upon it. There are also places below Alexandria which should be dredged in order to allow large steamers or sailing vessels of the present day to ascend the Potomac. It often happens that upon certain occasions when the presence of large naval vessels is desired in Washington that they are unable to come within seventy-five miles of the capital city.

THE Leesburg Mirror says: "Governor Swanson has not as yet announced when the primary will be held for the purpose of nominating a candidate to succeed Hon. J. F. Rixey." Gov. Swanson has no more to do with the primary election for congressmen from this district than has the man in the moon. That matter is entirely in the hands of the democratic congressional committee. Gov. Swanson can only order an election to fill the vacancy and in that election all parties' candidates can be voted for.

MR. BRYAN'S paper, the Commoner, makes a centre shot when it says:

Now if Mr. Jerome had gone after those insurance grafters with one-half the vigor he has displayed in digging up the unfortunate history of a misguided and badly advised young girl, the New York penitentiary might now be even more badly crowded.

From Washington.

Washington, March 7.

Under an opinion handed down today Attorney General Bonsparte holds that Southern States had been violating the immigration laws by prepaying the transportation and otherwise assisting the entry of immigrants into the United States. He holds that under the new law passed at the last session of Congress the government can order the State to deport aliens brought in by it under such conditions. This decision overrules the action recently taken by the Department of Commerce and Labor, which in this same case, relating to the Commissioner of Immigration of South Carolina, held valid the official's action in pre-paying the transportation of immigrants under an authorization of the State and from funds provided by private citizens and corporations. The opinion is rendered in response to the request of the House committee on immigration, which had under consideration that provision of the immigration bill permitting States to encourage immigration. Although during the debates in Congress on the bill it was announced that States could render financial aid in such cases the attorney general declares that under the new law enacted at the session just closed, the States can be forced to deport those immigrants which it aids.

Senator Depew and Representative Champ Clark, who were both callers at the White House today, gave their views on the "third term" question with considerable frankness. The Senator believes the President will get the nomination; the Congressman fears that he will. The Senator believes if he gets it he will be elected; the Congressman thinks that if he does he will be beaten. Senator Depew said that in his opinion sentiment was crystallizing for the President and that it was the first time, with one exception, in his memory that political thought seemed to be centering on one man, as it is on the President, a year in advance since the nomination of Grant for the second term. That exception, he said, was when McKinley's nomination was known by the country twelve months ahead of the convention. "I am dead against the third term idea," said Mr. Clark, "and I do not believe any man will be elected for the third time until this republic is on its last legs, and that time is a long way off. I am the President's personal friend and would be very sorry to see him take the nomination. I believe he was sincere when he said he would not take it; I believe he is sincere now in saying that if he does not want it; but I believe that it were shown to him that unless he did take it, the nomination would go to some of the so called reactionaries, he might be induced to accept."

Efforts are being made by both the United States and Mexico to bring about arbitration of the difficulties which have set Nicaragua and Honduras at war and which threaten to embroil the whole of Central America.

The government is almost ready to throw up its hands in the Chicago subtreasury shortage and to declare itself absolutely defeated in its efforts to discover how the loss occurred. The Secret Service is baffled. Chief Wilkie, who has been in direct charge of the investigation at Chicago, is understood to have reported that he does not know how the funds disappeared.

The President today announced the appointment of a number of young men to the United States military academy at West Point for 1908, all sons of army officers.

Senator Spooner denies the report from Minneapolis that he has accepted a position as general counsel for the James J. Hill roads. "Mr. Hill offered me the general counselship in 1884," he said today. "I did not accept it, and I have not heard from Mr. Hill since. There is absolutely no truth in the report that I am going to work for him. I did not leave the Senate for that purpose."

Senor Obaldia, the Panama Minister here, has received word from President Amador, of that republic, that he will pay his contemplated visit to the United States next December.

It was reported in governmental circles today that while the Reading movement had aroused interest there was no disposition to question the operation or to submit it to closer scrutiny by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as the transaction does not present any features justifying government inquisition.

The Thaw Trial.

Another dramatic chapter was added to the history of the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White yesterday when the mother of the defendant took the witness stand to contribute what she might toward saving her son from the death danger which menaces him. Mrs. Thaw's stay before the jury was brief. She told of her son's love for Evelyn Nesbit and sobbed while she was on the stand.

The mother's story was that during a visit to his home in Pittsburg Thaw often sat up all night, refused to eat, was distracted and gave way to tears.

He would play the piano, softer and softer, leave it and then go back to it again.

On a Thanksgiving Day the mother learned her son was in love with a girl he said had been ruined by the "wickedest man in New York."

While at church, during the singing of Kipling's "Recessional," the mother found the boy all a-tremble and in tears.

The mother gave her consent to the wedding on condition that the past of Evelyn Nesbit should never be mentioned and that Mrs. C. J. Holman should not visit her home.

At the end of Mrs. Thaw's examination court adjourned over until Friday morning, a death in Justice Fitzgerald's family causing an abandonment of the Thursday sitting.

A Daring Hold-up.

Moscow, March 7.—A daring hold-up took place at the University here today. While the officials were being paid off at the Chancellory seven armed men, supposed to be terrorists, entered, threatened all present with revolvers and demanded the money. The intruders then fired in the air, seized $20,000 and decamped, killing a sergeant of police whom they met at the door at which they had entered the building. The University is now surrounded by police and all the houses in the vicinity are being searched.

W. J. Gentry, ex-policeman, was dismissed in the Richmond Police Court yesterday upon a charge of criminal assault upon Miss Josie Robertson, of Buckingham county, it being shown by witnesses that the girl accompanied him willingly and that her reputation in her home community is not of the best. Both Gentry and the young woman were fined for being disorderly characters, the fine against the girl being afterward remitted upon the promise of relatives that she should be sent to a reformatory in Baltimore.

Herbert Steptoe, colored, was put on trial yesterday on the charge of criminal assault on Miss Gladys Shelton, the 18 year-old daughter of Benjamin R. Shelton, a prominent farmer of Amherst county. The crime was committed at the home of the young girl while she was alone, on the afternoon of January 7. The feature of the proceedings was the testimony of the young lady. She told of a negro coming to her home and asking for some bread. Miss Shelton went to the kitchen, and after coming out was set upon by the negro, who choked her, dragged her to the floor and assaulted her. She positively identified Steptoe as the negro who assaulted her.

AGREEMENT VIOLATED.

Quite a sensation was created in the corporation commission's office in Richmond yesterday during the hearing of a complaint against the Southern, the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac and the Atlantic Coast Line of failure to supply adequate facilities to the union stockyards.

The commission called attention to a verbal agreement entered into between the commission and the roads in July, 1904, whereby the roads agreed to supply the facilities that were desired.

The lawyers present denied any knowledge of the agreement or its provisions. Then Mr. Stuart made the following statement:

"I would regret to find that the railroads know nothing about this agreement."

Attorney McIlwaine, for the Coast Line, and Judge Leake, for the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, were immediately on their feet, exclaiming that such a statement should not be allowed to go into the records of the hearing.

"What I said I mean," said Mr. Stuart, "and I think it is due to the dignity of this commission to have the statement go into the record as I have said it."

"At that time, in 1904, as I recall it," continued Mr. Stuart, "the railroads importuned the commission not to enter a formal order against them, saying that they would abide by the informal agreement conscientiously. It now appears from the testimony of reputable witnesses in Richmond that the roads have not lived up to the agreement. I regret it very much, gentlemen, I regret it with all my heart, that the commission did not then enter a formal order against you."

It would be hard to tell what might have ensued had not Mr. Tunstall, representing the Southern, arisen and declared that, now he had come to think of it, Alfred P. Thom had referred to the agreement very recently in conversation. He stated that for himself he was inclined to accept any statement of terms of the agreement as might be given by Mr. Stuart. The other lawyers concurred in this timely sentiment.

Suicide Before a Mirror.

Paris, March 7. Standing before a mirror in her studio apartments today, Mrs. Dole Latham, said to be the daughter of a Chicago magistrate, committed suicide by shooting herself through the heart. Mrs. Latham lived in a lavishly fitted studio apartment on the Rue Viete where her clever sketches had attracted much attention. She is known to have entertained sumptuously and it is said that the expenditures greatly exceeded her income from her brush. In a brief note the woman attributed her suicide to the financial difficulties which surrounded her and from which she could see no avenue of relief.

The police announced this afternoon that the woman who committed suicide in the Latin quarter, today, was Mrs. Dole Latham, as first announced. They further say that the maiden name was Miss Nathalie Lockwood, of Chicago.

THE STROTHERS TRIAL.

The message received at this office over the wires yesterday evening stating that the case against the Strother brothers had been given to the jury was incorrect, as the arguments were not concluded till late last night.

When Mr. R. W. Moore finished his argument for the defense yesterday he was followed by Mr. John Lee, also for the defense, who consumed over three hours in addressing his arguments to the jury. He began shortly after 11 o'clock and, after speaking nearly an hour Judge Harrison asked that an adjournment be taken until 2 o'clock, at which time Mr. Lee resumed his argument.

"Our defense," said he, "is not an insanity which is a menace to the social and moral well-being of the community, but that which can come upon any man who loves and respects all that is highest and best in everything. If the Strother boys had been guilty of moral misconduct or had committed any great wrong against society, then it would be well for you to look with suspicion upon this plea and to scrutinize it well before entertaining it. Ordinarily when the question of insanity is imposed it is a case where the party has been blackened with crime and numerous witnesses are produced that his insanity was inherited.

"Our defendants are no such persons. They are scions of the noblest race of Virginians, men of intellect, of tender feelings and who entertain the highest regard for all that is true and best in everything, and we interpose this plea so that the jury may be able to say, in keeping with their conscience and duty, that men such as these may under stress and strain of mind be dethroned of their reason."

Mr. Lee took the evidence as it was brought out by the testimony of Mrs. Bywathers and went over it step by step detailing every circumstance in all its horror. He declared she had to go on when Bywaters ruined her, and then illustrated the great distress of Philip when he saw Bywaters leaving a room adjoining that of his sister. Mr. Lee pictured the trips to Washington for the criminal operations, how she was left alone, made to suffer agony by walking, the sudden illness and reaching the climax in the marriage. The attorney called Dr. Leon, who performed the operations, a "butcher," and insisted that Bywaters even thought so little of Miss Strother that he would not resent an insult of Dr. Leon, who talked to her roughly, she declared. Edgar Allan Poe, Jules Verne and other writers, the lawyer declared with all his powers of oratory, could never imagine a story so full of horror. "Dr. Leon, butcher as he was," Mr. Lee continued, "refused to operate on Thanksgiving Day and the Sabbath, but this creature Bywaters goes off to look after a hound puppy, leaving her alone in a strange city. And this is the man they say loved her and wanted to marry her. No man can tell what was the make-up of that man. He actually kept a horse and buggy here for his own pleasure, but didn't furnish a hack or even a street car for that young girl after the third operation had been performed."

Mr. Lee in arguing before the jury, did not select any particular plea set by the defense, but took the case as a whole and endeavored to impress upon the jury that the Strother boys were guilty of no crime in taking the life of Bywaters.

Captain Wood concluded the argument for the prosecution and addressed the jury for about 30 minutes, when Judge Harrison suggested an adjournment until 7 o'clock, when the night session convened. This was agreed upon.

In his remarks Captain Woods took occasion to congratulate the members of the jury for the strict attention which they had given all evidence and the manner in which he had been treated by the opposing counsel. He prefaced his remarks by referring to his speech before the State Bar Association at Virginia Springs, when he stated that he had refused to prosecute a man for resenting an insult offered to a woman.

"I meant every word of that," said Captain Woods, "and I wish to say right here that had Philip and James Strother killed Bywaters when they first learned of this seduction nothing but a divine intervention could have persuaded me to appear in this case. I do not intend to make any remark against the young woman, who, Lord knows, has passed through enough to burden any poor soul.

"That, however, does not deter me from doing my duty to the State and attempting to prove that the Strother boys had no right to kill Bywaters. In my opinion there must have been some agreement of marriage between the parties, for no girl is going to surrender her chastity without exacting this much from a man.

"Horrid pictures of Bywaters have been drawn by the counsel for the defense. It has been charged that by reason of this he should have been stricken from the face of the earth. Yet, you remember, that against all that has been said, the man is dead and cannot bring to the jury one word of explanation. Everything has been brought forward to blacken his life, and there is no method known to law by which we might have produced some evidence to deny their charges or bring a ray of sunshine to brighten his memory."

Taking up the details of the case, Captain Woods came to the marriage of the couple, after their return from Washington the last time.

"Both Bywaters and his wife had denied their guilt, but subsequently confessed. He took the blame and agreed to marry her. There was no objection to it, and he actually consented to have the ceremony performed at the time named by her brothers. He did exactly what he promised to do. Bywaters, although slain, had done all that he could do to atone for his wrongdoing. He had no means, no money, and what would his leaving Rotherwood have availed him?"

In his argument he spoke of the alleged desertion of Mrs. Bywaters by her husband and tried to bring facts before the jury to substantiate the theory that no desertion was intended by Bywaters, but that if he left Rotherwood at all he was fleeing, not from his wife, but from bullets fired at him in a quarrel with the Strother boys.

"The fact that he mentioned coming to Culpeper to tell his mother is not evidence that he attempted to desert his wife. It was not unreal that he should think of his mother. If he left that room he must have been in fear of his life. Let me say to you, gentlemen, that when Bywaters, now sleeping in his grave, left his wife's room on that fatal night, he was fleeing, not from his wife, but from flying bullets.

"We do not know what happened in that room. There is a mighty mystery about it all, but we do not believe Bywaters was leaving as a man who was attempting to desert his wife."

When Captain Woods concluded it was after 10 o'clock, and Judge Harrison decided not to send the case to the jury until today.

Accompanied by Deputy Sheriff John A. Bowersett, the men in whose hands the fate of the Strother boys rests returned to the Waverly Hotel, where they have been quartered since the trial began. They were ordered to be in court at 9.30 o'clock this morning.

Today's Telegraphic News

STROTHERS ACQUITTED.

Culpeper, March 7.—Court met this morning at 9:35 o'clock and the jurors at once filed into the court room. Judge Harrison handed one of the jurors the indictment, instructions, and two letters, and a telegram which had been admitted as evidence and then said:

"Gentleman, retire to your room and deliberate over your verdict," and at 9:38 o'clock the jury retired to determine the fate of the brothers.

Judge Harrison ordered the doors of the court house locked, and only a few people were in the room when the case went to the jury.

Outside a crowd of 500 or 600 men and boys stormed the doors, but admittance was not granted them by Sheriff Pulliam. The crowds stood in a driving snow waiting for the verdict to be announced. James and Phil moved nervously about the court room.

Culpeper, Va., Mar. 7.—The jury in the Strothers case returned a verdict of "not guilty" at 11:10 a. m. The jury took into consideration all the facts in the case and decided that the brothers could not be held for the murder of William F. Bywaters, whom they killed within an hour after they had forced him to marry their sister.

Judge Harrison had ordered the crowd to receive the verdict without demonstration. Notwithstanding, there was much hand-clapping and shouting when the foreman announced "not guilty." Immediately afterwards there was a wild scramble over benches and chairs by men who wished to shake hands with the acquitted men. Mrs. James Strother fell weeping into the lap of her husband and James also cried.

Judge Harrison rapped for order and addressed the jury, several members of which were weeping. The judge's voice shook and tears coursed down his cheeks. After complimenting the jurors on the attention they had given the evidence and their arrival at a verdict after a reasonable time, Judge Harrison said:

"Gentlemen, I am glad to hear that the chastity of our women is to be protected and that no punishment shall be meted to those who deal with a man who invades the home. I have no censure for your verdict. Go to your homes, and I hope you will find them as you left them."

Attorneys Moore and Lee, for the defense, were the first to shake hands with the defendants.

James and Philip made the following joint statement:

"It is just what we expected. We knew that we had not done wrong, but had to wait a long time to know that the jury would believe it."

Commonwealth's attorney Woods said: "We are perfectly satisfied with the finding of the jury. We did our best to present the Commonwealth's side of the case, and feel that our whole duty has been done."

Juror Townes said: "We were instructed to put aside any prejudice we might have against emotional insanity. We put our prejudice aside and concluded that it was emotional insanity."

Emperor William's Life Threatened.

Berlin, March 7.—Kaiser William's life was seriously threatened at a concert in the White Hall, at the palace, last night, when Herr Kupke, a member of the orchestra, suddenly went raving mad, and tried to attack the emperor. Only the sturdy officers who occupied seats near the Kaiser prevented Kupke from assaulting and killing the monarch. Kupke startled the audience by uttering a piercing shriek and rushing from his place, waving his arms wildly and shrieking at the top of his voice. Suddenly he seized a big bass drum and started across the stage beating it with all his might. He savagely attacked everyone who tried to stop him. Before any one fully realized the situation Kupke had left the platform and rushed straight toward the Kaiser who occupied a seat in the front row. Officers of the emperor's suit grappled with the madman. He fought viciously and several times almost broke away before he was overpowered. He was finally ejected from the hall and conveyed to a mad house. During the struggle with the maniac, Emperor William was the coolest man in the hall, but the audience was thrown into a panic.

The bill also provides for the establishment of separate schools for Orientals and the word "Japanese" is specifically added.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, March 7.—By the latest shift in the game being played to save the life of Harry Thaw, the young millionaire's fate again hangs by a thread of expert testimony, this time the testimony of two new alienists, Drs. Hammond and Jelliffe.

Having skilfully driven home in the minds of the jurors the idea of justification under the "unwritten law," Thaw's attorneys have now virtually cast aside the defense and stand squarely before the jury on this issue.

At the conclusion of the testimony of Mrs. William Thaw last evening the defense had virtually ended the first half of its case—the proving that Thaw was insane at the time of the shooting. From this time forth the efforts of Thaw's attorneys will be along lines directly opposite those pursued to date tending to show that Thaw is sane.

Cranks are making life miserable for District Attorney Jerome in letters in reference to the Thaw trial. Some threaten him with all sorts of trouble if he convicts Thaw and others threaten him if Thaw is acquitted.

One writer says if Thaw is convicted Jerome will be blown to pieces. A skull and crossbones are attached as the seal of the "justice committee."

Important Decision.

St Louis, Mo., March 7.—The Standard Oil Company and John D. Rockefeler must stand trial in St. Louis. By a decision rendered today by the four United States circuit judges sitting in the case, it is held that the defendants in the government ouster suit against the oil trust can be brought to St. Louis for trial, no matter in what portion of the country they may have legal residence. There are seventy defendants in all, including Rockefeller, Rogers, Flagler, and six other trust magnates, and sixty-one companies or corporations which are the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and its subsidiary companies.

Carried the News to Thaw.

New York, March 7.—The first news of the acquittal of the Strother brothers, who slew William F. Bywaters, the betrayer of their sister, was taken to Harry K. Thaw, today by a representative of the Publishers' Press Association. "I'm mighty glad to hear it," said Thaw, when he was reminded that the defense of the young Virginians had been "the unwritten law." "I would like to tell you just how glad I am, and what I think about it, but my attorneys won't let me." And Thaw laughed at his own little joke.

Reward for Kidnapped Boy.

Kirk Hammock, Del., Mar. 7.—"I will give $10,000 reward for the return of my child or $20,000 to the detectives if they will bring my boy safely home," said Dr Marvin, father of the missing four-year-old boy who was kidnapped Monday from his home here. Dr Marvin has gone to Philadelphia to confer with Captain of Detectives Donaghy. He is frantic over the child's disappearance.

Bodies Washed Ashore.

Naples, March 7.—Twenty-nine bodies have been washed ashore at Castellammare di Stabia, according to information reaching here today. The bodies are believed to be those of the passengers and crew of the British steamship Malaga, which recently foundered at sea. It is not known how many lives were lost, but additional bodies continue to wash in almost hourly.

Defendant Fell Dead.

Bethlehem, Pa., March 7.—Papers naming him as attendant in a suit for $10,000 were served on Allen W. Knecht, a prominent citizens of Nazareth, today. Knecht listened intently and as the words were read pitched forward on his face dead. The suit was brought by a man whose son was drowned last summer in a swimming pool conducted by Knecht.

Guarding Dowager Empress.

London, March 7—Every precaution known to the authorities of Scotland Yard is being taken to guard the Dowager Empress of Russia who arrived here today to visit her sister, Queen Alexandra, who, accompanied by the Princess of Wales, met her at the station. A special corps of detectives including several Russian officials will accompany the Dowager Empress during her entire stay in the city. There will be no publi announcement of her intended movements. Every known anarchist in England has been placed under police surveillance.

An Agreement Reached.

Berlin, March 7.—An agreement has been reached between the United States and German governments on the fundamental principles of the commercial treaty which the two countries have been trying for over a year to arrange. This declaration was made today in the Reichstag by Herr Koerner, chief of the commercial department of the German foreign office. The understanding reached is understood to be the direct outcome of the recent visit of the United States Commissioners to Germany to discuss tariff arrangements with a German Commission.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 7.—The stock market was extremely nervous and unsettled in the opening following the lead of the lower London prices said to be due to unconfirmed rumors on the other side of a heavy failure in Berlin. The room traders were afraid to buy stock at or near yesterday's closing prices and there was an absence of demand from either railroad interests or large operators in any group. Renewed buying of the same character that started the advance in Reading yesterday carried the price up to 1.44½ after weak opening followed by a decline to 122½ and another rally to above 143. At the end of the first hour, a part of the nervousness disappeared and a better tone was established.

Magazine to March.

[illegible] Magazine to March, which has been received from its publishers in New York, contains articles of much interest and importance, and excellent fiction. The recent sudden death of Josiah Flynt Willard lends peculiar interest to his autobiography now running as a serial in Success. "The Dreyfus Affair" and "Fools and their Money" are continued, oil booms in California are discussed, a new explanation of recent earthquakes is contributed and directions as to "How to Live a Century" are given. Under the heading, "The Third House," is described the large body of lobbyists in Washington, their work, entertainments etc. Among the good stories is one by Ralph Henry Barbour.

Escaped from an Officer.

Early last night a colored man carrying a new stove in his arms entered the store conducted by Mr. Charles Griffin, jr., on Cameron street, between Royal and Pitt, and asked the proprietor to purchase the heater. Mr. Griffin, suspecting that the darkey had stolen the stove, sent for a policeman and while the proprietor was pretending to be engaged in examining it Officer Sherwood entered. The latter asked the negro where he obtained the stove. He gave his name as Joseph Williams, and said the stove belonged to him and that he lived in "Chicken Alley." The officer, discrediting his story, put him under arrest, placing the "nippers" on his wrists. Upon reaching the sidewalk the negro attempted to break away from Officer Sherwood, which he finally succeeded in doing after struggling some time with his captor, and ran west to Pitt street. He turned north on that thoroughfare with the officer, Mr. Griffin and others pursuing him. The fugitive was intercepted by Mr. John De Silva, but the negro broke away from him and turned into Queen street, and finally disappeared on St. Asaph street. Several shots were fired at the darkey while he was running.

Not Washington's.

A New York publication, known as the "Firemen's Herald," in this week's issue has the following to say regarding the old Friendship fire engine which some ignorant people persist in saying was donated to the company by General Washington:

"Every few years the story goes the rounds to the newspapers of the country to the effect that Alexandria, Va., has the hand fire engine which General Washington presented to the Friendship Fire Company, of that city, in 1776. The Washington engine, after its retirement from service in the early part of the last century, was stored for some years and finally dismantled and sold for old material. Its successor shared the same fate when the present double-deck Rogers hand engine of the Friendship Company was procured in 1850. If the Washington engine was now in existence it would be worth almost its weight in gold. There have been other alleged George Washington fire engines. The old hand engine behind which John Brown fought at Harper's Ferry was sold for junk a few years ago."

N. & W. Steamboat Company.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company yesterday at the office of the company in Washington, the following were elected directors to serve during the ensuing year: John Boyd, Daniel J. Callahan, John Callahan, Daniel Fraser, Edward Graves, W. B Hibbs, Clarence F. Norment, George W. Pearson, Odell S Smith, Hylas P Wheeler, Levi Woodbury. At a subsequent meeting of the directors Levi Woodbury was re-elected president; Clarence Norment, vice president; John Callahan, second vice president and general manager; Odell S. Smith, secretary and treasurer. D. J. Callahan was appointed assistant general manager, W. H. Callahan, general passenger agent, and J. G. Williams, auditor.

Myers Brothers.

Mr. J. F. Myers, who for a number of years has been employed with W. B. Moses & Sons, of Washington, has resigned his position there and has connected himself in business here with his brother, Mr. R L. Myers, who for the past several years has conducted a carriage, wagon and harness business on north Pitt street. The new firm, which is to be known as Myers Brothers, propose to enlarge their plant for manufacturing purposes and to install the latest improved wood and iron working machinery, their object being to construct first-class wagons and to execute repairing. They will also handle horse and carriage supplies as well as the famous Fairbanks-Morse gasoline engines and saws.

New Record Room.

At a meeting held last night of committees on public property and finance to consider the proposed improvements of the Corporation Court rooms, clerk's office, and record room it was decided to recommend to the City Council that the clerk's office and record room be located on the ground floor of the City Market building and to ask an appropriation of about $5,000 to meet the necessary expenses for the proposed improvements It is said that a majority of the members of the bar and also the clerk want the clerk's office and the record room to remain on the second floor of the building as at present. The matter, it is said, will be reported to Council next Tuesday night.

Death on a Steamer.

When the steamer Northumberland reached this port Tuesday evening from Washington on her return trip to Baltimore Watchman Hart was found to be seriously ill and Dr. Arthur Snowden was called to attend him. The doctor soon reached the steamer and performed the necessary services. After the Northumberland had proceeded some distance down the river the condition of the watchman became serious, and without stopping at some of her landings the Northumberland proceeded to Leonardtown for the purpose of securing medical aid for Mr. Hart, but he died before the steamer reached that place.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Miss Edith A. Stansbury, daughter of Mr. Daniel R Stansbury, who died at her father's residence on north Columbus street, on Monday morning, took place this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Joseph R. Sevier, of the Second Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, and the pallbearers were Messrs. Orlando H Kirk, David N. Hutfish, Leo Harlow, Maurice Wilkins, Ros Atkinson and J Randall Carson jr. Many friends and acquaintances of the deceased attended the funeral.

Mission at St. Mary's Church.

St. Mary's Church last night was packed to its utmost capacity and the people listened with keen interest. The sermon was on the subject, "Why Catholics confess their sins to the priest." The speaker said that "natural instinct prompts man to confess his guilt to a sympathetic friend. To claim that I will confess my sins to God alone, is made only by one who knows not the human heart. Did Christ elevate this human impulse to a sacramental condition and incorporate it into His religion as a means of obtaining divine pardon? Yes, He did. He came to save sinners, calling them to repentance, forgave them their sins and bade them sin no more. He established His church for the same purpose. The method by which sinners are reconciled to God is clearly explained in Holy Scriptures. St. Paul calls his sacred office 'a ministry of reconciliation' (2 Cor. v., 19). Christ gives to His church the power of binding and loosing (Matthew xviii, 18.). He still more explicitly confers upon His apostles the power to forgive sin, or to refuse pardon. 'Whose sins you shall forgive they shall be forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they shall be retained' (John xx, 19). This power of discriminating between sinners requires the knowledge of the sins committed and the spiritual condition of the sinners. This he can learn only from the sinner himself through confession. The obligation of confessing one's sins to a priest could never have been imposed upon the christian world by any one less than God. The attempt to do so would have been met with violent opposition, of which no trace is recorded in history. The universality of the practice of confession up to the sixteenth century clearly demonstrates its apostolic origin."

The lecture tonight will be on purgatory, or prayers for the dead. Many questions will also be answered.

The Alleged Murderer.

The news of the capture of William Johnson, alias George Midgets, who is charged with killing Charles T. Smith on upper King street on the night of the 20th of last October, affords a subject of considerable interest to many in this city. The fact that the murderer escaped after committing the crime was a source of much regret and most Alexandrians had about given up all hope of apprehending the negro when the news of his arrest was sent here by the Chief of Police of Harrisburg, Pa.

Mr. R. D. Brumback, acting for Commonwealth's Attorney S. G. Brent, who is confined to his home by indisposition, yesterday forwarded to Gov. Swanson a request for a requisition on the governor of Pennsylvania for the delivery of Johnson to the Virginia authorities.

It is said that the prisoner will not be brought direct to this city, but will be carried to a neighboring county until the time for his trial.

Personal.

Governor Swanson has received a postal card from Senator Martin, who, at the time of addressing the card, was in the desert lands of the Nile. Senator Martin wrote that he and Mrs. Martin were sunning themselves on the Libyan Desert, beneath the shadow of the aeon-old pyramids. Mr. and Mrs. Martin left Virginia about a month ago, the trip being taken for the health of the Senator's wife. They expect to leave for home in a few weeks.

Miss Richards last night gave the last of her series of lectures of the season before the Cameron Club.

Charter.

A charter has been granted by the State Corporation Commission to the E. H. Janney Car Coupler Company, incorporated, of Alexandria. Incorporators —E H. Janney, president, of Fairfax county; L. Stabler, treasurer, of Alexandria; H. R Burke, secretary, of Alexandria. Capital stock—Maximum, $100,000; minimum, $10,000. Its object is for patent improvements.

Moving Pictures.

Pearce & Scheck's high art moving pictures will be exhibited at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall March 11 and 12 for the benefit of the Reliance Steam Fire Engine Company, No. 5. The moving pictures are interesting and amusing. All tickets which were sold for the exhibition announced for February 25 and 26 will be good on the 11th and 12th instant.

The Weather.

The weather was cold again last night, although the heavy northwest wind, which set in Tuesday night and continued during most of yesterday, had diminished in force. The mercury at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 30°. The wind had in the meantime changed to the northeast and at 11 o'clock snow began to fall.

Duplicate Machinery.

The officials of the Alexandria Electric Company expect the arrival of their duplicate machinery at the works during the next few days. The manufacturers of the dynamo and machinery in Pennsylvania have notified Superintendent Darrah that the same have been completed and are now being tested.

Deaths.

Can now do my housework and am in splendid health."

Mr. Bryan's Services Declined.

William Jennings Bryan will not be one of the municipal ownership spellbinders in the coming democratic campaign in Chicago. This was announced by Mayor Dunne yesterday. The mayor said:

"Mr. Bryan offered to speak in my campaign, and I thanked him for his friendly interest. However, it seems to be the consensus of opinion of the county central committee that the speakers in the campaign shall be from our local celebrities. Strictly local issues are involved, and, all in all, perhaps it is better that we settle our differences by ourselves."

"My Bryan has pronounced views on municipal and governmental ownership along the lines you advocate," was suggested. "That's true; but I guess we can get along and expound our doctrine all right. We all admire Mr. Bryan, of course." Beyond that the mayor declined to discuss the offer of Mr. Bryan.

New Rules for Postcards.

An order has been issued by the Postmaster General providing new regulations governing the size, form and weight of private postcards entering the mails. Such postcards must be made of an unfolded piece of cardboard, not exceeding three and nine-sixteenths by five and nine-sixteenths inches, nor less than two and three-fourths by four inches.

They must in form and in quality and weight of paper be substantially like the government postcard. They may be of any color not interfering with a legible address and postmark. Very thin sheets of paper may be attached to them, on condition that they completely adhere to the card. Cards bearing particles of glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel, or other similar substances will not be accepted for mailing, except when inclosed in envelopes.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater, & Sons, druggists.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.
